

Emerging governance networks for NDCs – Cooperation patterns and expectations

Mobilizing climate finance for implementing NDCs and low-carbon technology innovation

Mareike Well, Barbara Saerbeck, Severin Sperzel, Nina Kolleck, Helge Jörgens (Freie Universität Berlin)

Preferences on INDCs pre-Paris

Scope

- Mitigation only
- mitigation, adaptation, finance, capacity building and technology transfer or support

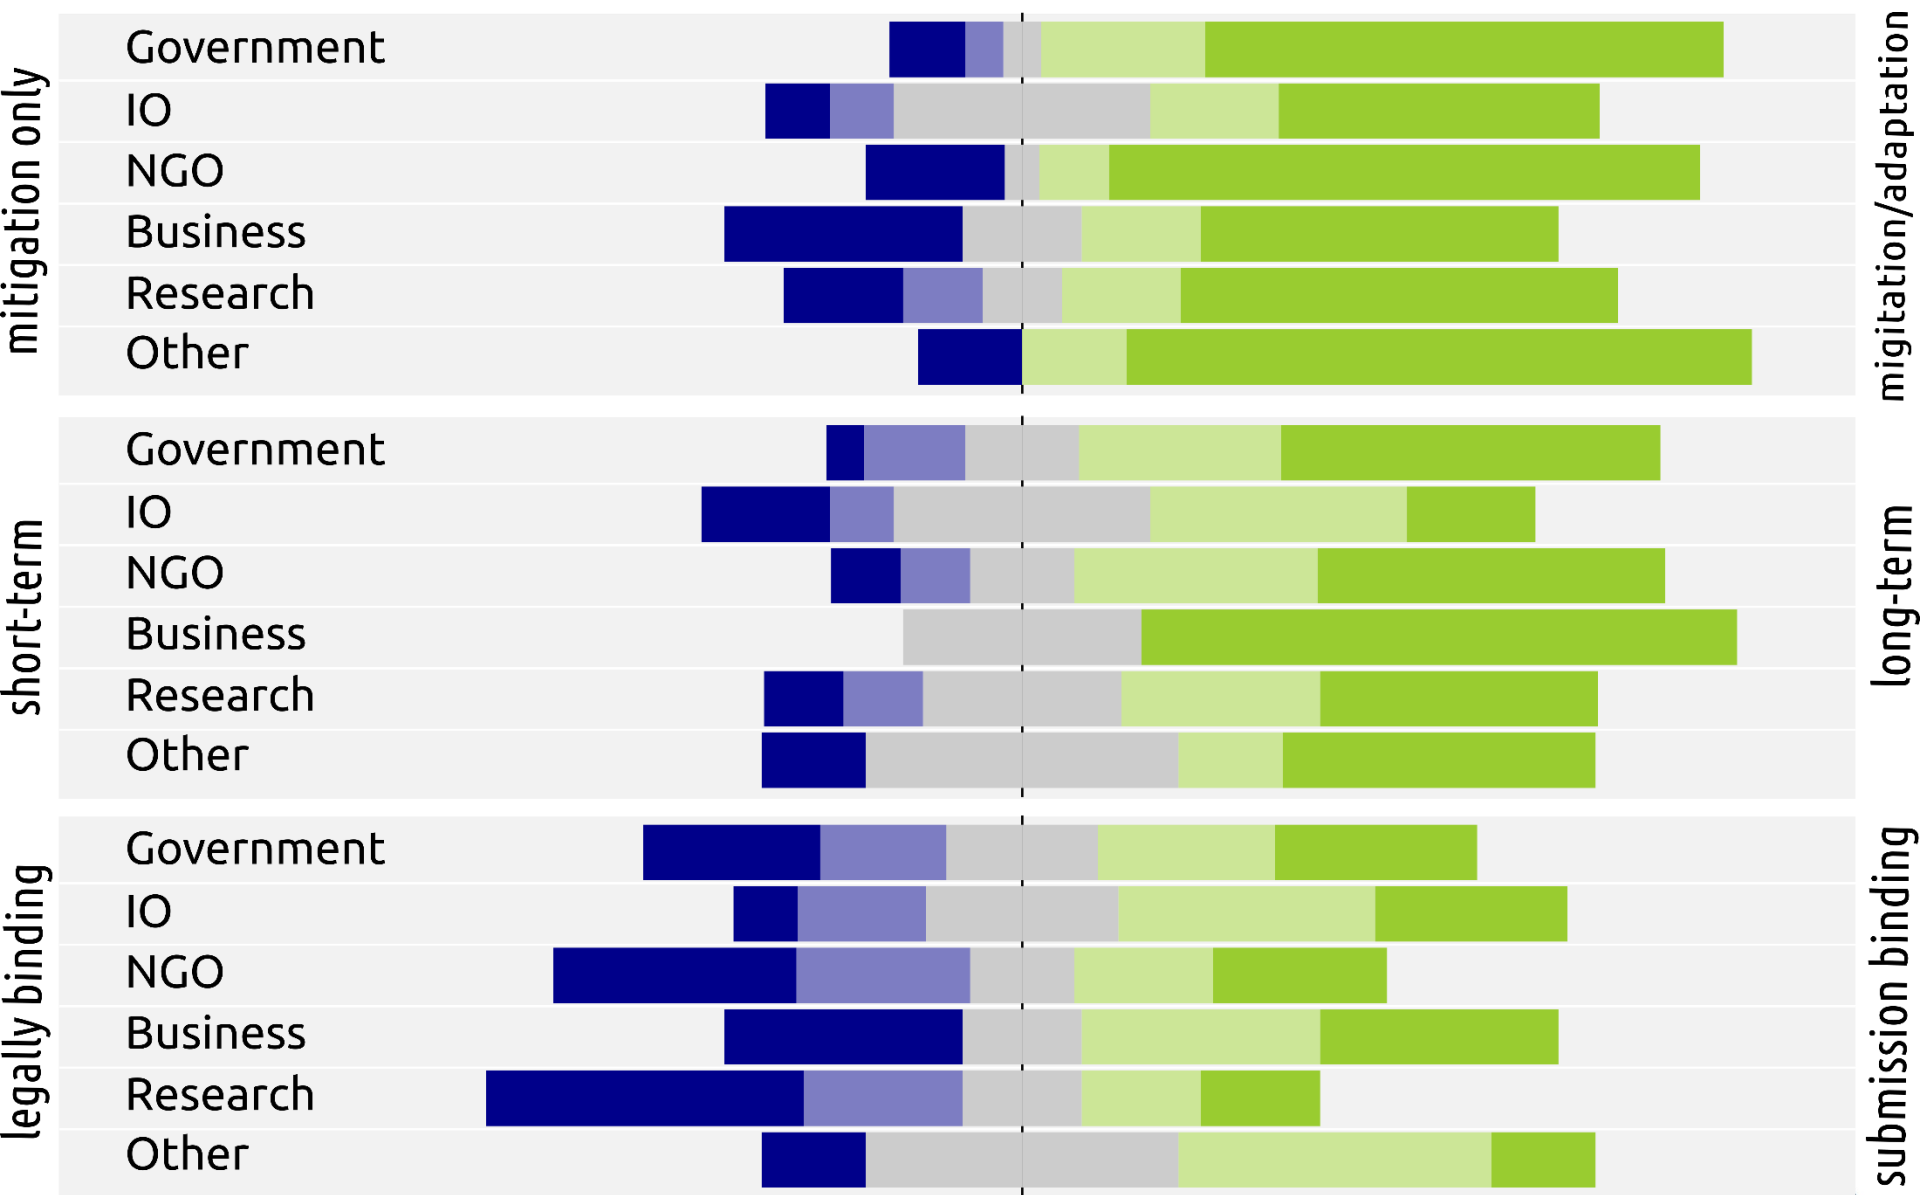

Time horizon

- Short term goals
- Long term goals

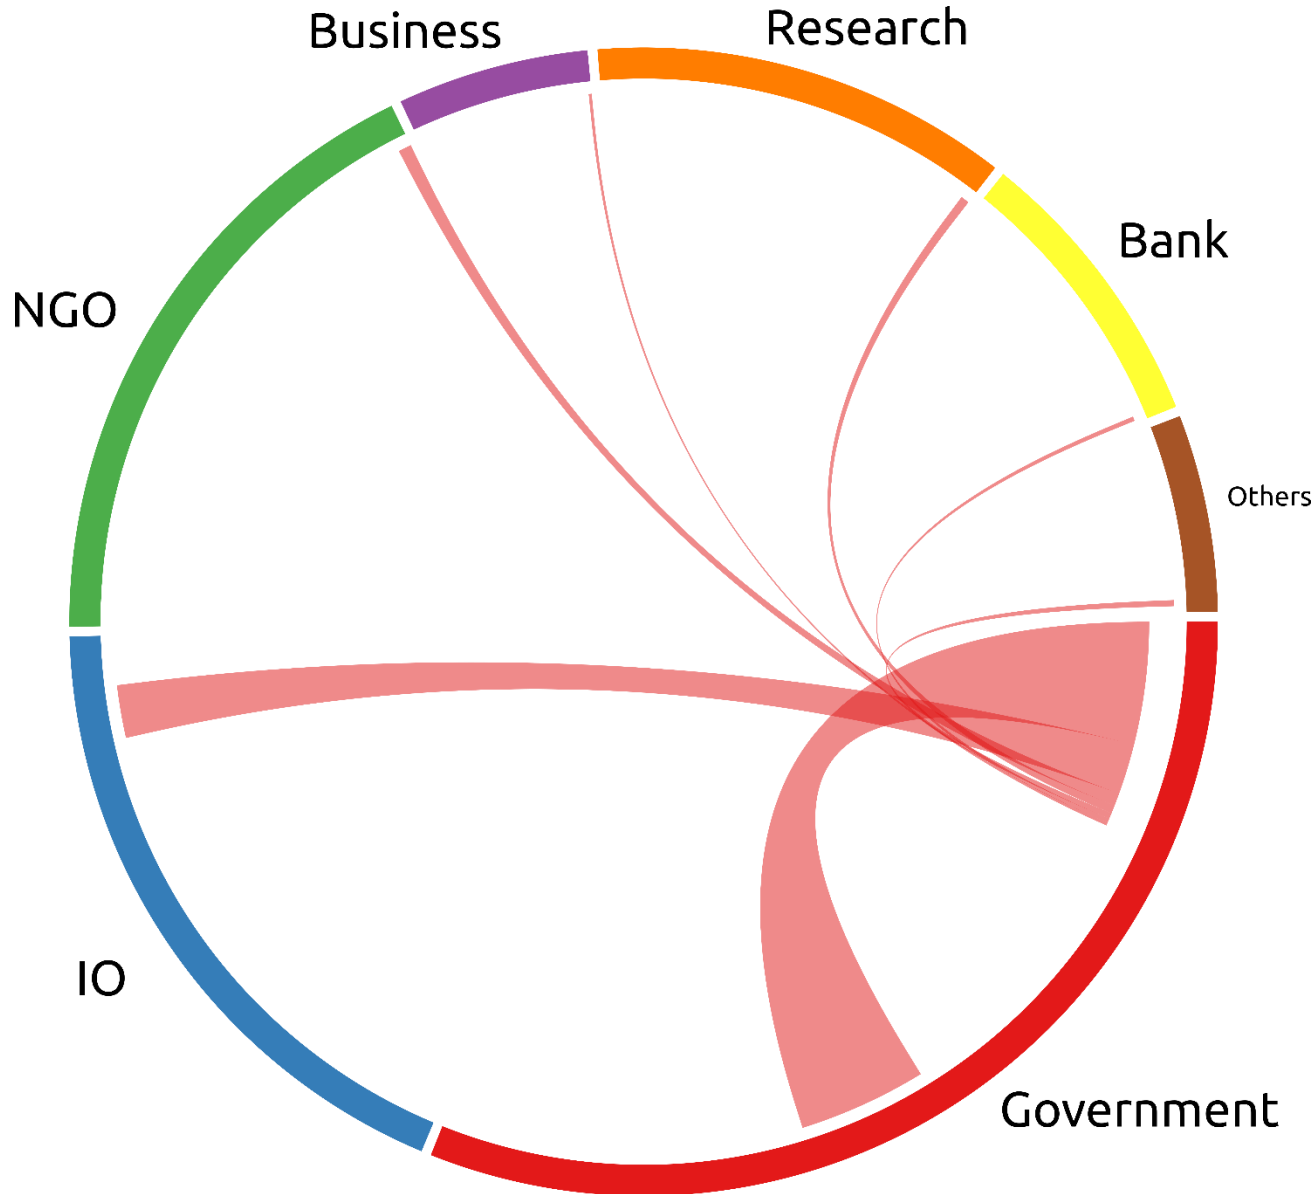

Legal form

- INDCs should be legally binding and anchored in PA
- Submission of INDCs an obligation, INDCs themselves not

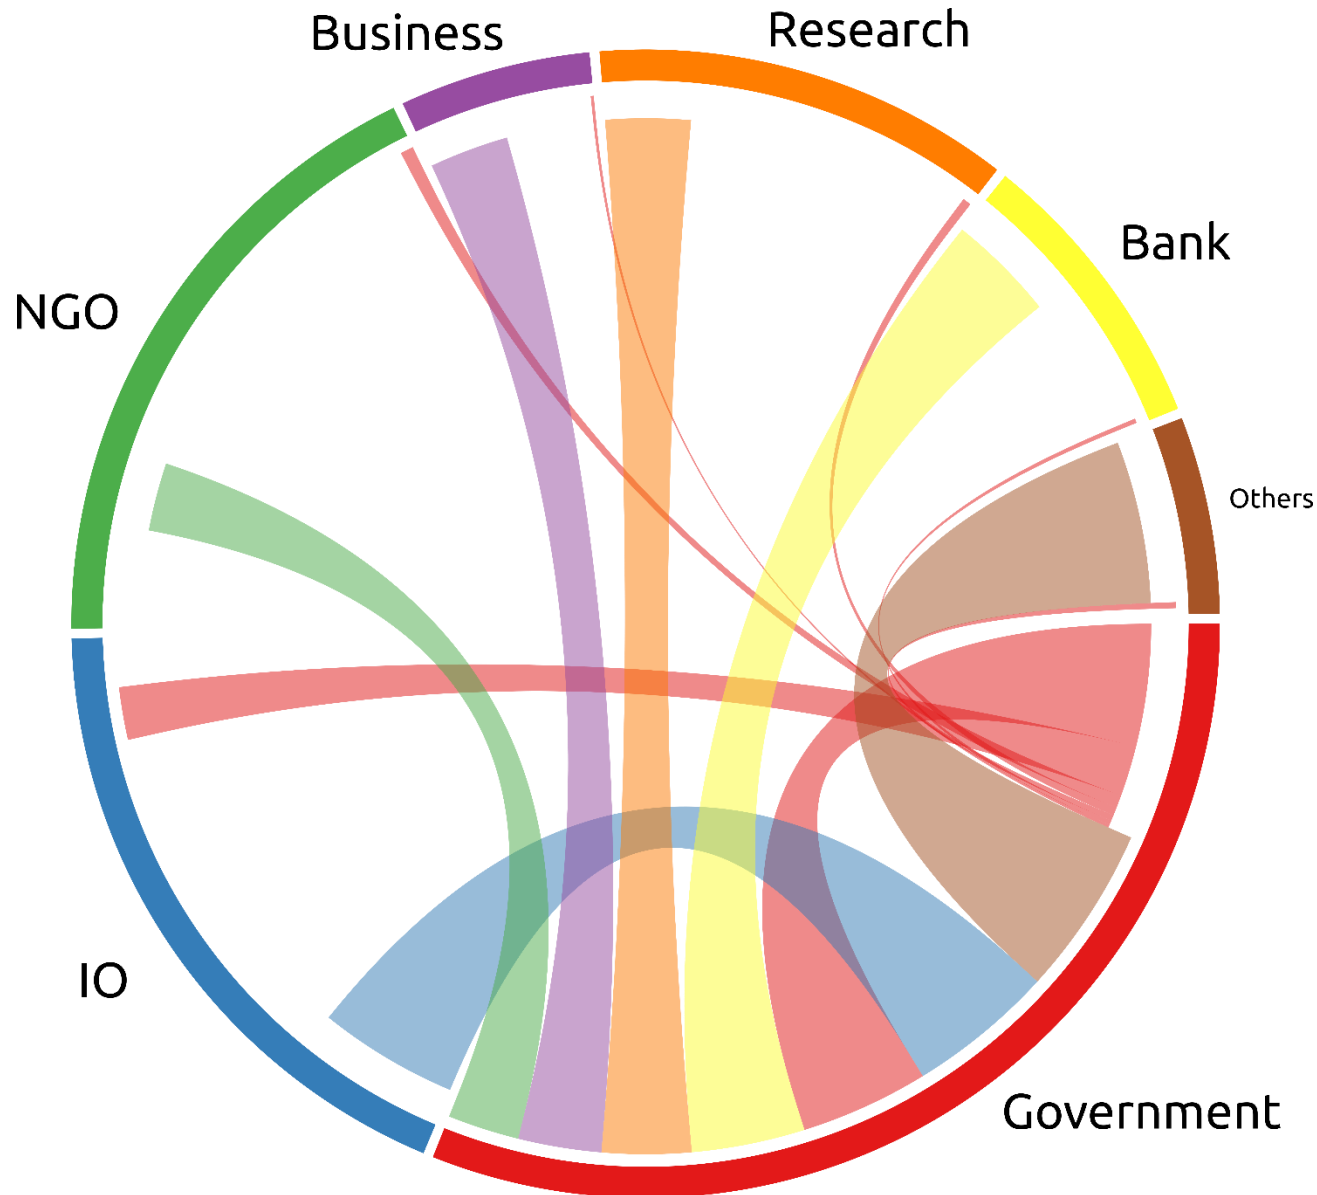

Preferences among stakeholders on INDCs pre-Paris

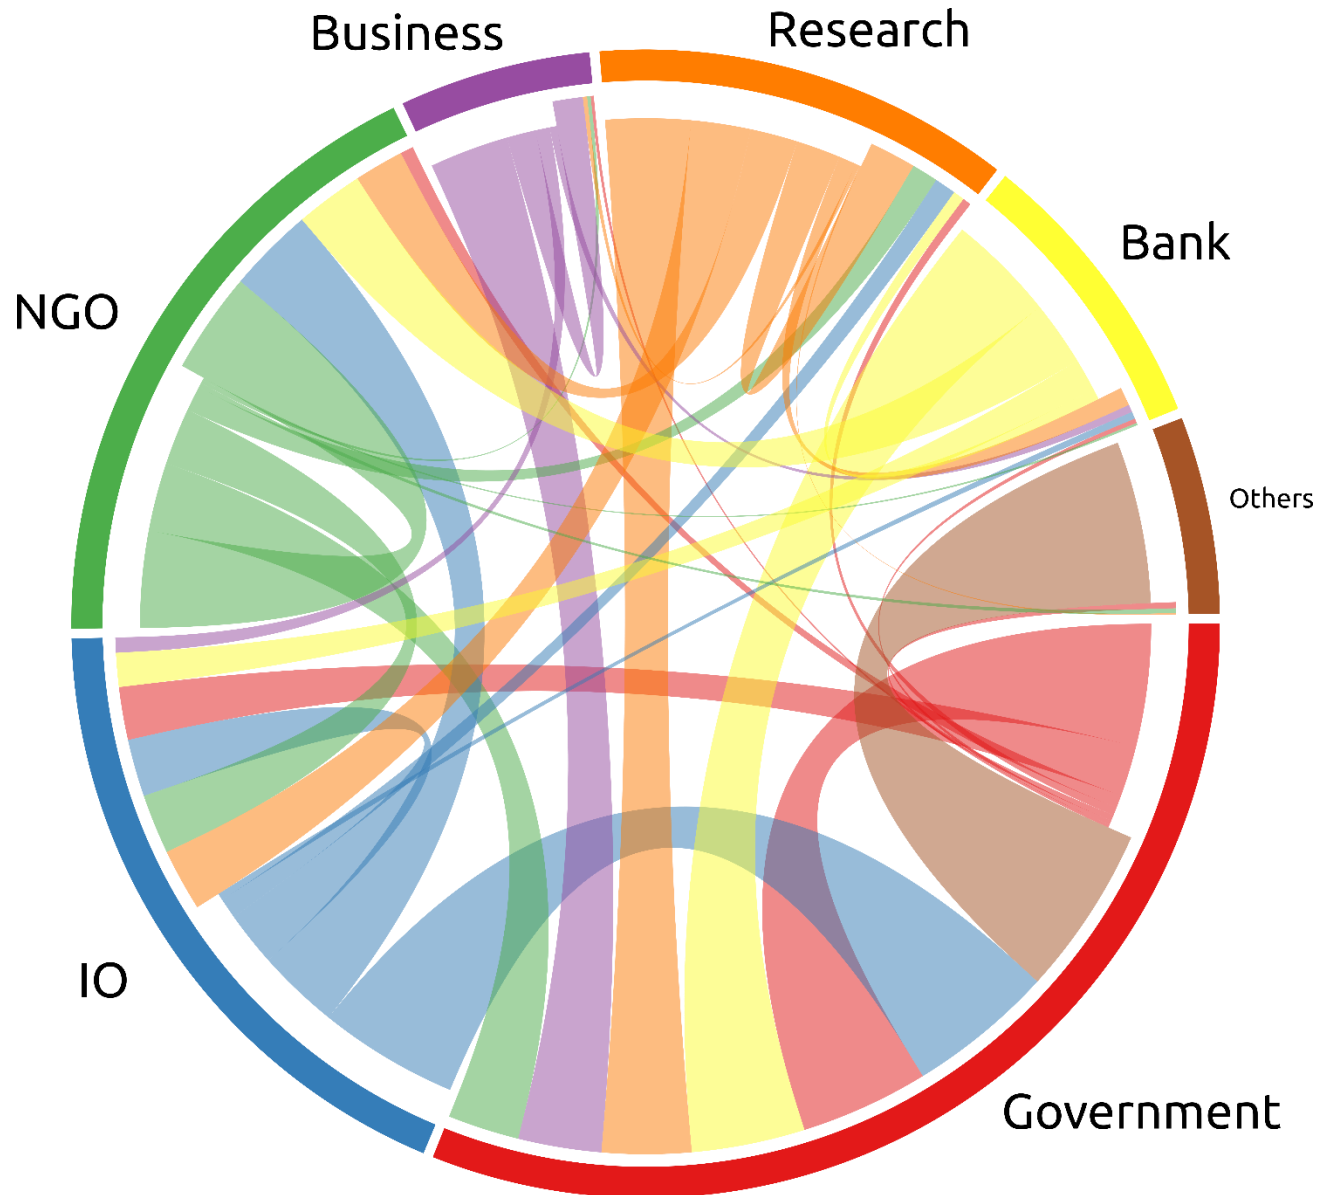

Cooperation and info exchange among parties and stakeholders on INDCs

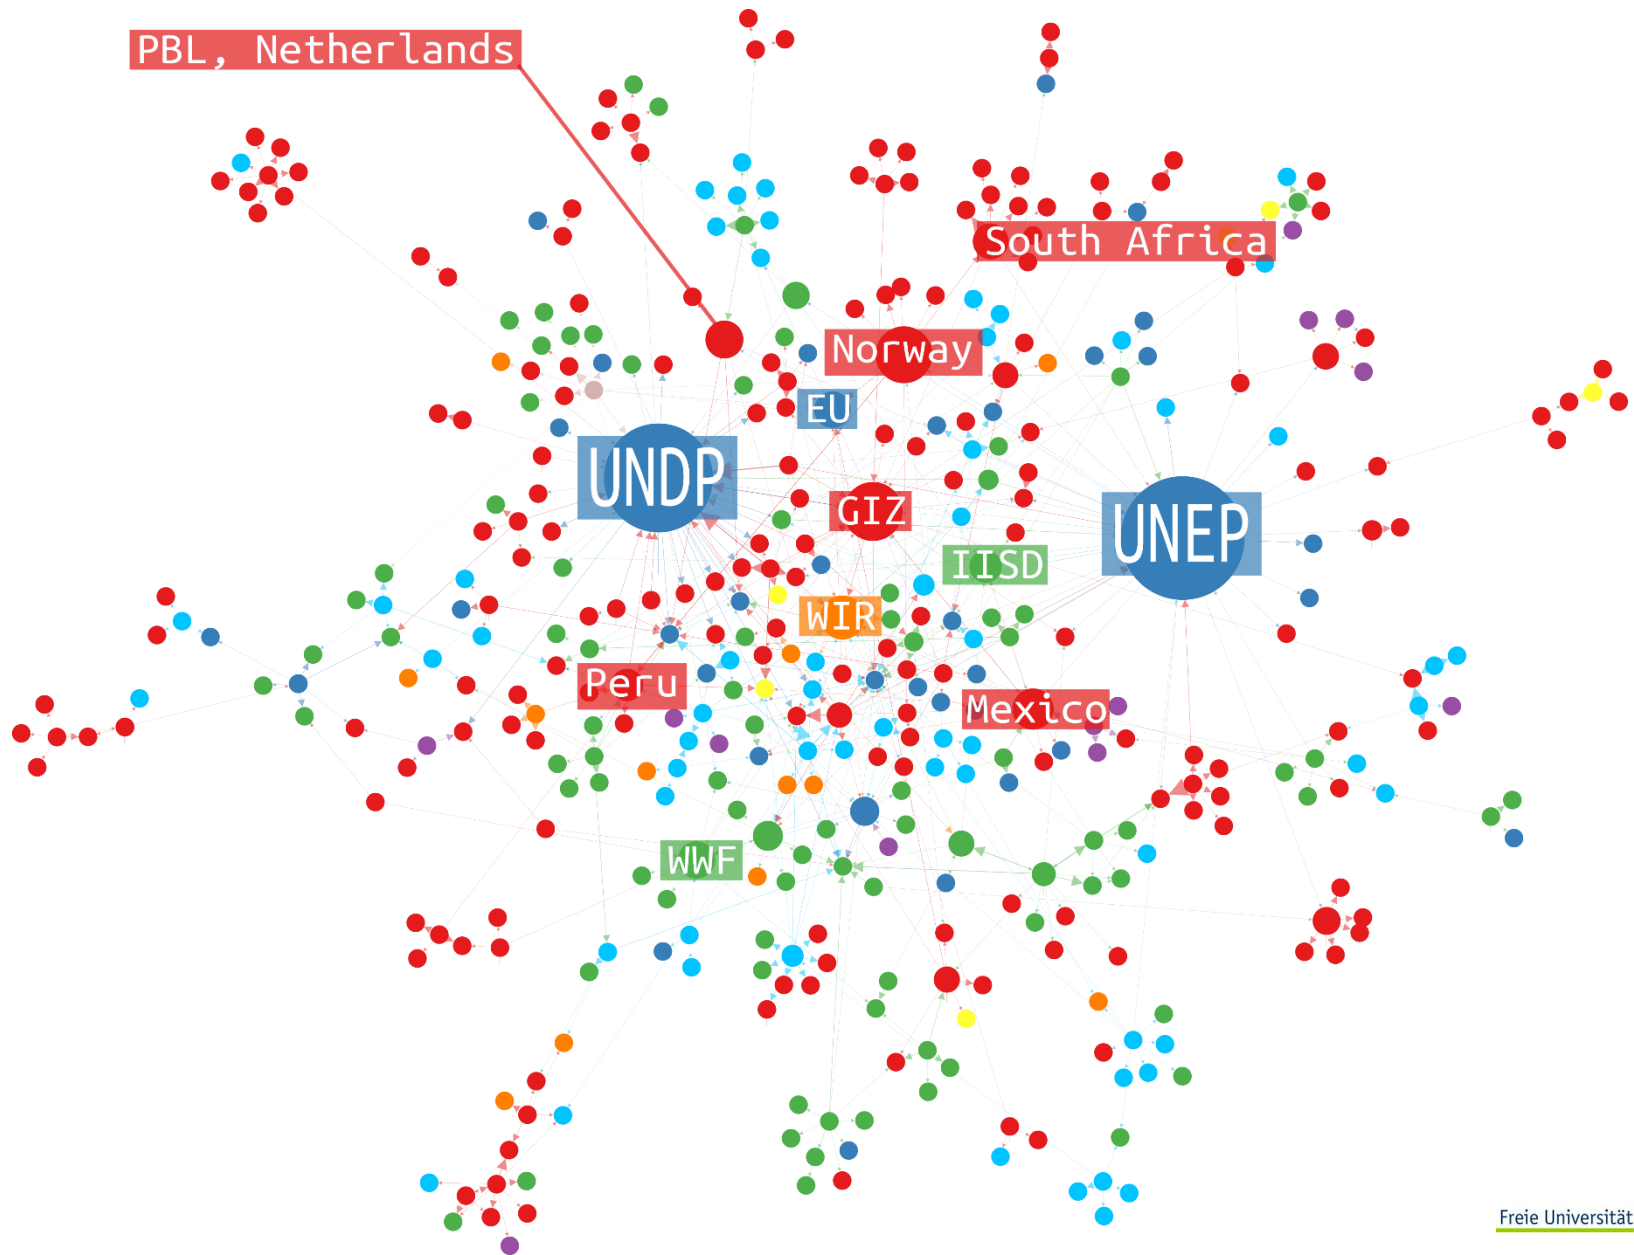

Cooperation and info exchange among parties and stakeholders on INDCs

Cooperation and info exchange among parties and stakeholders on INDCs

Cooperation and info exchange on INDCs

Preliminary findings

- While similar actors tend to cooperate amongst each other, cross-cutting actions also exist
 - Increasing role of non-party stakeholders reflected in networks
 - Some actors can act as brokers to connect parties and stakeholders
- Emergence of diversified form of governance for implementation of PA

Thank you

Further information about the project:
www.ipa-research.com/envipa

Contact details:
Mareike Well: mareike.well@fu-berlin.de